Garden Grove PARKS & RECREATION GUIDE

Summer 2024 May - August

ABOUT THE COVER

This edition's cover features the newly installed playground at Magnolia Park.

Imagine this playground and the entire park teeming with blossoming Citrus trees. Magnolia Park was once a thriving citrus farm with thousands of trees dating back to the 1920's when Ernest Wakeham purchased the 30 acres of land at the corner of Magnolia Street and Orangewood Avenue. He turned this property into a prosperous family-run citrus farm operated by the Wakeham family.

After many years operating the family-run citrus farm, in 1962, the Wakeham family sold 4.5 acres of their property, including their family home and backyard pool to the City of Garden Grove. The City drastically repurposed the land, built a community center, remodeled the pool for public use, added tennis courts, and more. This location is now known as Magnolia Park!

In October of 2023 more updates came to Magnolia Park as the City broke ground to install new pool fencing, a 24 square foot picnic shelter, fitness equipment, and the striking citrus-farm themed playground seen on the cover and below. The playground features include two play structures, one for ages 2 to 5 and another for ages 5 to 12 with play elements that include colorful play structures, a two-story spiral slide, an inclusive orbital spinner, and an ADA accessible swing set. Additionally, new outdoor fitness equipment surrounds the perimeter of the play area, allowing caregivers to exercise and watch their children simultaneously.
